Long Term Care

Overview

Long Term Care Lawyers

With experience in all facets of health care representation, our long term care practice attorneys have been representing health care providers across New York State for over 20 years with a menu of services that includes health care law, labor and employment law, employee benefits and executive compensation, insurance defense, mergers and acquisitions, business restructuring, creditors' rights and bankruptcy and litigation support.

We also provide legal assistance to clients in areas such as contract litigation, payment disputes, guardianships as well as corporate matters, insurance defense subrogation, construction contract claims and general self-insured litigation needs. Our attorneys also serve the needs of self-insured organizations.
