Profile

Dominique works with clients on a wide array of legal issues related to environmental matters, such as environmental enforcement proceedings arising under federal and state statutes, land use permitting issues associated with project development and compliance with the State Environmental Quality Review Act (SEQRA) review process associated with environmental permitting and land use matters.

Prior to joining Bond, Dominique was an associate at an Albany based firm where she focused on energy related matters. This included drafting and negotiating contracts and agreements related to energy and infrastructure project development and financing. Dominique was previously at another Albany area law firm where she advised clients in complex real estate development projects and assisted clients with all aspects of the land use permitting process.
