Profile

Gabriel counsels clients on a wide variety of strategic business matters pivotal to their long term success. He guides C-suite leaders on matters ranging from regulatory and legislative affairs to tactical planning, to help them dexterously address legal issues affecting their organizations.

Employing his experience in healthcare and human services and his background working in governmental and nonprofit settings, Gabriel's efforts touch on the overlaying elements among legislative, regulatory and compliance issues critical to navigating today's complex business environment.

Gabriel provides targeted legal advice on issues, including:

- crisis management;
- healthcare reinvention activities;
- cybersecurity and data privacy preparedness;
- operational efficiencies;
- legislative, government and regulatory issues; and
- workforce matters.
