

School Law

Overview

Bond has a long history of representing elementary and secondary schools across the state. Our school law practice encompasses an array of services necessary to meet the diverse needs of our school clients.

Currently, the firm provides general or special legal services to more than 80 school districts and independent schools throughout the state. Our school law practice draws on the experience of attorneys from all departments within the firm in order to provide effective, timely and efficient service to our school clients.

Because we serve a large number of districts and schools, we believe it is our responsibility both to stay current with the evolving requirements of the law and to assist in achieving sound, practical results.

Bond is proud to deliver legal services to the following New York State public school districts:
