

Proactivity. Efficiency. Experience. Deep Roots Throughout the State.

Running a manufacturing operation is a complex endeavor, requiring robust support on a variety of business and legal issues. Environmental matters; OSHA and other workplace regulations; product safety; trade secrets and other intellectual property issues; and labor and employment matters are all part of the business environment.

As laws and regulations continually evolve, the burden increases. The manufacturing industry attorneys at Bond, Schoeneck & King provide coordinated, comprehensive legal counsel on all business matters affecting manufacturers. We serve clients of all sizes and have significant knowledge in a wide variety of industry sectors.

At Bond, we have the bandwidth, the physical presence and the experience to help our clients analyze and reduce risk. We bring the insights drawn from our deep, long-lasting relationships across New York State with manufacturers, regulators and trade groups to address our clients' circumstances.

The Wisdom of Being Proactive

Waiting until an inspector identifies an environmental problem, for example, or waiting until a leak occurs can generate needless health and safety risks, significant penalties, and loss of reputation.

Similarly, the loss of intellectual property can be devastating; reclaiming a stolen trade secret may cost a company an amount exceeding six figures just in litigation expenses. Smaller companies may not survive.

To help our clients avoid such emergencies—or to minimize the impact and speed recovery—Bond has developed a suite of audit services that provide clear, decisive steps for cost-effectively reining in risk:

- Trade Secret Protection Audit identifies critical intangible assets and helps develop procedures, contract language, employment and non-disclosure agreements that guide companies in anticipating and mitigating threats.
- Environmental Compliance Audit helps head off disruptions by determining a facility's compliance status in areas such as solid waste, hazardous waste, storage drums, water, indoor air, pesticides, PCBs, asbestos and noise. Bond also supports clients to manage the legal needs that arise when possible violations emerge.

At Bond, we have the bandwidth, the physical presence and the experience to help our clients analyze and reduce risk.
